Murphys, California — The Ironstone Concours Foundation released the list of featured cars for the 2007 Concours d' Elegance "Celebration of Automotive History" and entry forms are now available to car owners wanting to show case their classic automobiles, motorcycles, trailers and boats. "Last year was our best show ever with over 300 classic cars and vehicles which allowed us to raise a record amount for youth related education programs throughout California. This year we hope to set new records in attendance with the help of our media partners and sponsors" said Gail Kautz, Ironstone Foundation Chair and spokesperson.

The Ironstone Concours announced that included in their feature cars this year is the 1949 Mercury 6-passenger Coupe driven by James Dean in the 1955 movie "Rebel without A Cause" movie. The movie would debut one month after the tragic death of James Dean and the Mercury would go on to develop a cult following among auto enthusiast. The one-of-a-kind 49 Merc is being shown by the National Automobile Museum –Harrah Collection out of Reno Nevada and will be exhibited in the Ironstone Gardens along with other classic vehicles.

The 2007 Ironstone Concours will also have special classes for Mitchell Automobiles and Franklin Automobiles as well as a special class for American Dream Convertibles built between 1953 and 1961. This is to include the special, low production offerings such as the 1953 to 1956 Packard Caribbean, 1953-1961 Cadillac Eldorado, Chrysler 300, 1953-1954 Buick Skylark, and 1953 Oldsmobile

Fiesta. This will be in addition to our usual lineup of classes and vintage trailers.

Car entry remains $35 and includes General Admission, continental breakfast, and buffet lunch for 2 adults and a complimentary gift basket. Entry forms are available on-line at www.IronstoneFoundation.org or by calling 209-736-2561. Entry deadline is August 25th 2007.
